

Sempermed® supreme latex powder-free glove

At HARPS Global, we are committed to continuous improvement, and our customers are invaluable partners in this process. Your insights help us better understand your needs, allowing us to deliver products that meet your highest expectations.

We kindly ask for your feedback on the surgical gloves you evaluated. Your responses will directly influence the ongoing development and refinement of our products to better serve your needs.

To ensure the most accurate feedback, we request that you wear the gloves during sterile procedures in the operating department. Your experience in these real-world conditions is essential to helping us enhance our products.

Thank you for your support!
